

University of California Division of Agriculture and Natural Resources 4-H Youth Development Program 4-H Group Enrollment Form

The 4-H Youth Development Program is in every county in California. 4-H is a place where young people are given many opportunities to build confidence, learn responsibility, and develop skills that will last them a lifetime. It's a place where youth make friends and share interests, ranging from building robots to raising rabbits, from designing web pages to landscape design. It's a place where youth work together to make a positive difference in their community, and adult volunteers make a powerful difference in the lives of young people. Get involved in the 4-H community and make a lasting difference! For more information about 4-H, visit www.ca4h.org.

Youth may be engaged with 4-H curriculum in a school or after school setting. There is no individual 4-H enrollment process for these types of settings. Youth are "group enrolled" and overall numbers are reported but not specific information on each participant.

Youth and adults group enrolled are not covered under 4-H accident/sickness insurance.

This enrollment form is used for youth in the following delivery modes:
